YELLOW TRAIL GRADING—COMMERCIAL
CARTAGE CO. GETS 36-MILE
SECTION BETWEEN
CARDSTON AND MA-
GRATH

Calgary, Aug. 9.—Contracts for the grading of an additional 48 miles of Alberta highways were awarded on Friday, according to C. A. Davidson, provincial highways commissioner, who was in the city Saturday on his way with other Alberta delegates to the Sunshine Trail convention to be held during the coming week in Butte, Montana.

The Commercial Cartage company of Calgary was awarded the contract for the grading of the 36-mile section of the Cardston-Lethbridge highway between Cardston and Magrath.

The joining of the Gull Lake and Sylvan Lake roads west of Red Deer and Lacombe will be started with the allotting of the contract for the first twelve miles of this connecting link to Frank Jackson, the contractor who has recently completed the grading of the C. P. R. extension west of Leduc.

Work will be started on both these projects immediately according to Mr. Davidson, and it is planned that both roads will be rushed to completion during the next few weeks.

EIGHTH FORTNIGHTLY
CROP REPORT

As harvest approaches the condition of crops throughout the Province is better than was anticipated earlier in the season, with the exception of the south-eastern part of the Province and central eastern areas crops are good. In the eastern area where conditions were unfavorable throughout the early part of the growing period late rains have caused excellent growth of oats and barley, and if the frost free period is prolonged, there will be fair yields of wheat.

The hot dry weather of the past fortnight has caused too rapid ripening of crops in the south-eastern part of the province, where moisture was plentiful. In the central and northern area where heavy rains fell during July and wheat crops were maturing slowly, these high temperatures have caused more rapid ripening without serious injury to quality.

Wheat cutting has commenced in the south and will be general next week. Through-out the central and northern districts a not generally visited by tourists, a day or so may be set aside for the ascent.

On leaving Winnipeg, the boys were eagerly looking forward to a period of "real roughing it" in the Canadian Rockies.

NEW JERSEY MOUNTAIN CLIMBER LOST FOR DAYS ON MOUNT ROBSON

Mount Robson, B. C., Aug. 11.—Newman D. Waffle, Orange, N. J. schoolmaster, sought as lost somewhere on Mount Robson, by climbers, is still missing. Searchers reported early today that they had been unsuccessful in their hunt for Waffle so far but that the quest was continuing.

Waffle set out alone six days ago in an attempt to scale Mount Robson, highest peak in the Canadian Rockies, by a new route. His return had been looked for four days ago. He carried food sufficient for two days only.

THE GLENWOOD PUBLIC

CORPORATION HOLD

The Glenwood Public Petroleum Products Corporation held a meeting last night at their office with Mr. McKenzie an official of the company from Winnipeg, the local President, Harry Bester and the directors, Wallace McCrae, H. Smith, W. C. Smith, J. M. Layton, V. J. Murphy and the secretary, H. Eastman all being present.

The object of the meeting was the report of the findings of the business to date. Mr. McKenzie checked over all the books, accounts, stocks, and the business during the four months of its operation. It was found that a profit of $2,500.00 had been made, that $30,000.00 worth of business had been transacted, that 85,000 gallons of desolator and gas had been sold and 2000 gallons of oils and greases.

It was the decision of the meeting that no dividend will be paid until all the notes were paid up, probably by the last of the year.

Mr. McKenzie reported all accounts were correct.

DANGEROUS PARADISE—CARROLL AND ARLEN JOIN FOR GREAT ACTION DRAMA—THURS., FRI., SATURDAY—

Nancy Carroll's first starring picture, "Dangerous Paradise," now showing at the Empress Theatre, is a story of intense love and gripping adventure. In a South Sea Island locale, the action moves through climax after climax, with breathless speed, to a logical but happy ending.

Pursued by three villainous men, hunted and beaten, but unbroken in spirit, Nancy Carroll flies to the man she loves, forces him to protect her, and, as he fights for her, wins his love. It is a powerful theme that carries everything before it. It seizes and holds the attention. Richard Arlen is the leading man, and Warner Oland has an important part.

NEWSPAPER LIFE. AU-

TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY

"In the Headlines," Warner Bros. new all-talking Vitaphone production which comes to the Empress Theatre next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday is an authentic picture of newspaper life.

One of the many ways in which newspapers solve baffling murder mysteries is revealed in "In the Headlines."

Immense cases are on record in which reporters on large city daily papers have brought desperate criminals to bay and lifted the veil of mystery that surrounded the crime. This is by no means confined to city newspapermen. Small town editors and reporters have frequently operated alone or in conjunction with the local police.

Despite this apparently unenviable display of "detective" work, the solving of such mysteries by reporters in the great majority of cases has been merely their determination to get the news. In order to "see" their rival papers, they have turned detective on their own.

Excuse me, Marian Nixon has the leading feminine role in "Second Choice," a Warner Bros. picture which is being shown at the Empress Theatre next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It is an absorbing story of the jazz age.

Miss Costello is cast as Valery Grove, a modern girl whose mother objects to her liking for a poor young man, Don Warren, who later jilts her for a rich girl.

The strange twist of affairs by which she is to hide her anger and mortification, marries Owen Mallory, who has himself been thrown over—the return of the lover—the everlasting throb and crash of jazz—make up a drama of unique appeal.

The rival youths are played by those screen favorites, Chester Morris and Jack Mulhall. Others in the superb cast are Edna Murphy, Charlotte Merriam, Ethelne Clair, Jimmy Clemmons, Edward Martindel, Henry Stockbridge and Anna Hance. The play is based on the Saturday Evening Post story by Elizabeth Alexander Joseph Jackson did the adaptation and Howard Bretherton directed.

"Second Choice" is suffused with all the joy, conflict and suffering of youth. Story, cast and direction conspire to create a great evening's entertainment with the screen's most beautiful star.

GENERAL SMITH-DORRIEN
DIES FOLLOWING MOTOR
CRASH—COMMANDER OF SECOND BRITISH
ARMY IN 1914-15 PASSES

Chippenham, Eng., Aug. 12.—(A.P.)—General Sir Horace Smith-Dorrien, 72, one of Britain's most famous soldiers, died this morning without regaining consciousness after an automobile accident yesterday in which he received severe head injuries.

General Smith-Dorrien commanded the second army of the British expeditionary force in 1914-15, and in 1910 was A.D.C. to King George. He was retired in 1923.

Saved War For Allies

London, Aug. 12.—(By Thomas T. Chapman, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—"Smith-Dorrien saved the war for the entente by disobeying orders." This was the verdict of the formidable German commander, Field Marshal von Kluck, on the action of a general who opposed him in the early days of the great war.

On the death of Sir James Grierson in August, 1914, General Sir Horace Smith-Dorrien was appointed commander of the second army corps which received the brunt of the German attack on Mons. The general gave a "stand and fight" decision when Sir John French, the British commander in France, had ordered a retreat from Le Cateau.

"We Will Fight"

Sir Horace thought the order, if carried out, would mean disaster and his sentence to his staff in a little room at Bertrix. "Very well gentlemen, we will fight," made military history.

Sir John French, after the battle, commended Smith-Dorrien in notable terms, but he afterwards appeared to change his mind, asserting the stand at Le Cateau was made unnecessarily and against orders. The British official history of the war, nevertheless, supports the action of Smith-Dorrien and the most prominent German commanders agree with the verdict of Von Kluck.

HEALTH SERVICE OF THE
SOCIATION—SLEEP AND REST

Good habits of sleep and rest play a large part in securing the healthy development of children. Very many children do not get sufficient rest and as a result, they do not grow or gain in weight. In addition their appetites are poor, or they are irritable and cranky. Perhaps the most frequent cause of malnutrition in children is lack of sufficient rest.

The preschool child suffers most in this way. He has reached an interesting age, and often he is allowed to remain up for the evening meal so that his father may play with him. Father most likely thinks that it is amusing the child, but it is really the child who is amusing Father. The child enjoys this play, but it makes him excited, and so he does not settle down to sleep readily when put to bed, with the result that his rest is disturbed.

The child of two and three years of age should be put to bed long before the family's evening meal. The child of four and five should go to bed right after the evening meal, and should not be stimulated by being played with just before his bed-time.

We need never worry about a child's having too much sleep. Up to six years of age, the child should sleep for not less than twelve hours at night, and one or two hours in the afternoon. The night sleep should continue until the child wakes naturally.

The child under six needs more rest than the school child, because he is more active and he is passing through a period when he is developing rapidly, both physically and mentally.

The afternoon rest should be continued. It is better that the child should sleep because sleep is the best form of rest. If he does not sleep, he should be told to lie quietly and rest, and he should not be fussed over for not going to sleep.

Mention should be made that the over-tired child is the one who, very often does not feel a bit sleepy. Parents may think, if the child says he is not sleepy and seems wide awake, that rest or sleep is not necessary. We would like to stress the fact that the underweight and so-called nervous children very often refuse to admit that they are tired.

Children are more active on some days than on others, and therefore, they are not so tired on one day as on another. It is best, however, to have a regular bedtime for the child, because this makes it much easier for him to go to sleep.

He should then be allowed to sleep until he wakes. In this way, he will get all the sleep he requires, which is, without question, what is most essential for his health and strength, but which, nevertheless, entails no expense.

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

Catch that twinkle in Bobby's eye? It's time to drink his milk—how he relishes it! And how his milk nourishes Bobby—and puts that sparkle in his eyes! It's Nestlé's Evaporated Milk—the milk that has put a sparkle in the eyes of thousands of Bobbys.

And here's the Reason! Nestlé's Evaporated Milk is just the best of fresh cow's milk with part of the water removed—then sealed and sterilized in airtight containers. Add water again and you have absolutely pure, safe milk—but more readily digestible than ordinary milk because the large fat globules of the milk have been broken up into small ones of the same size as in Mother's milk. Also, the curds which form in the stomach when Nestlé's Evaporated Milk is used are soft and flaky and therefore easily digestible.

Use Nestlé's Evaporated Milk for Your Baby. Use it in coffee—in cocoa—in tea. Use it in all cooking and as a beverage by diluting with one to two parts water.

WHO OWNS A FOUL BALL?

The small boy's right to any perquisites he can collect at a ball game seems to have been upheld definitely by high legal authority now. Everybody will be very happy about it except the owners of baseball parks.

In Chicago the other day a youngster went out to watch the Cubs play. He was perched high in the bleachers, along the foul line, when some batter smacked a foul ball into his territory. The ball landed beside the youngster and he promptly pocketed it.

An usher, thereupon, appeared and demanded the ball. The boy refused to give it up; the usher, accordingly, went away, to return a little later with three policemen. Together they descended upon the youngster with the ball.

But there is an esprit de corps, or whatever you call it, among bleacherites. The enraged fans arose en masse and fell upon the policemen with their fists. The upshot of it all was that small boy, baseball, wounded policemen, usher and a dozen or more belligerent fans had to appear in court.

The judge disposed of the case in short order. The usher, he said, had no right to go after the ball in the first place. When a citizen goes to a ball game he has a right to pocket any ball that falls into the stands in his vicinity—provided, of course, that he can lay his hands on it. As soon as he does, the ball becomes his property. So the quarrel was settled, and everybody went home happy.

All of this is very encouraging, settling, as it does, the long-disputed question, "who owns a foul ball?" But one must admit that the club owner may not be inclined to rejoice about it. After all, baseball costs money, and a good many fouls get knocked into the grandstand during an afternoon's play.

The fan, however, is just that much ahead. Furthermore, the thing raises some fascinating speculations. Do footballs that get kicked into the stands belong to the lucky chaps who catch them? Do sliced golf balls go to the nearest idler? When a boxer gets knocked out of the ring and lands in somebody's lap, does he—but let's not make this thing absurd.

True, the bee works faithfully, but his end is painful.

A FOURTH OF ITS OURS

The poet who said, "It takes a heap of livin' in a house to make it home," forgot to mention another requirement. It also takes some money.

Willard K. Denton, president of the Metropolitan League of Savings and Loan Associations, is warning the young people of the land that they should not turn the house-in-which-they-live into the home-which-they-own, until they are ready to pay down at least 25 per cent of the cost in cash.

Nor should they buy a home whose cost is more than three times the sum of the family's annual income, he says.

The last statement is very easy to understand. No one should invest beyond his income. But the first is a little more puzzling. There are a great many families who own their homes, who might not have done so had they had to pay rent all the time that they were saving up for the one-fourth down investment.

They experienced the keen pride of ownership and were able to plant rose bushes and turnips and onions on their own ground so much earlier than if they had waited. Because they had bought their homes, they wanted to save and hasten the moment of full possession. Otherwise they might have taken the money out of the bank and bought a better car or a radio while waiting for the sum to reach the required point.

Or somebody else might have bought the house they wanted.

Perhaps the logical answer is that if the desire for a home is strong enough the couple won't let anything interfere with the saving policy, and if it isn't they wouldn't keep the house anyway.

We willingly agree that it would be much more satisfactory to walk into a house knowing that it was one-fourth yours, than just a fraction of a fourth.

A TEST FOR WORKERS

Honored by being chosen to address the apprenticeship class at Washburn School, Chicago, Charles Seaton prepared a terse speech on "Leadership." In his message to the graduates he emphasized the values of the apprenticeship system. "You are in the shop, not only acquiring the work habit," he said, "but you are bridging the gap between theory and practice."

These are questions he submitted as a test on which to grade young workers:

How easily do you follow directions and learn new methods?

Is your work neat and accurate?

How much energy and application do you devote to your job day in and day out?

Can you do certain work without being told every detail?

Do you ever make practical suggestions for doing things in better ways?

How much do you really know about your work and other work related to it?

The questions look simple. But they form an examination for the most courageous.

PREHISTORIC MAN — AND WOMAN

Science justifies itself. Not only has it produced prehistoric men for moderns to look at, but it has now achieved the "reconstruction" of a prehistoric woman.

At Peking, China, the skulls of both a man and a woman have been reported, both relics of a dim and forgotten age.

The discovery has a piquant interest for the layman. Many times has he listened to merry feminine laughter as the pictures of the "Java man," the "Heidelberg man," the "Neanderthal man" and others showed up in the newspapers.

It was always hard to reply to such laughter. In the first place, there did seem to be some slight resemblance, enough, for example, to justify that well-known: "Well, honestly, I'd have thought he was your grandfather." And then again, there was the Eve fixation—the notion that no matter how wild and shaggy was prehistoric man, his wife was a creature of bewitching loveliness.

So now the tables are turned. Now we can compare them. Now the great-grandfather illusion can be met with another one about a great-grandmother. The advantage is indisputable.

All thanks to science.

THE SWING OF THE PENDULUM

How tourist traffic is swinging in the direction of Canada is illuminatingly told in a letter received by Hon. George S. Henry, Minister of Public Works and Highways for Ontario, from the Secretary of the Capital Tour Association, an organization of United States hotel men.

The letter makes a comparison between the inquiries received by this organization from prospective tourists in 1925 and 1929, during the touring months of July and August only.

The following percentage figures show which localities were preferred:

1925—New Jersey, 25 per cent; Canada, 20; New England, 15; New York and Lakes, 10; Virginia and South, 5; miscellaneous, 25.

1929—Canada, 30 per cent; Virginia and South, 25; New York and Lakes, 15; Pennsylvania, 10; New Jersey, 5; miscellaneous, 15.

Mr. Henry states that inquiries received by his own department indicate a big tourist trade this year, and most residents who take to the highways at all can find evidence pointing the same way.

TROUBLE FOR THE HITCHHIKERS

Who has not observed with interest, oftentimes with annoyance, the growth of the hitchhiking movement throughout this country? Motorists as a class are not at all averse to performing their daily good deed, but usually there are reasons for passing the hitchhikers on the highways.

The annoyance seems to be registering elsewhere. In New York State the matter has come to a head with a bill introduced into the state legislature aimed at making the practice unlawful. "It shall be unlawful," says the bill, for any person to stand in a roadway for the purpose of stopping a private vehicle to solicit rides from, or to solicit from or sell to occupants of such vehicles." This will hit others besides hitchhikers, he it noted.

STANDS THE TEST

Garnet wheat, developed by the Cereal Division of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, tests nothing by the cruellest tests to which it was subjected at the hands of twenty of the world's outstanding authorities on milling and baking in Great Britain and on the Continent. Not only is Garnet firmly established as a high quality wheat, but as an improver of blends has a promising future. Since its introduction in 1926 it has extended the area in which hard spring wheat can be matured without danger of damage by frost by 25 per cent, and it already counts for more than one-fifth of Canada's wheat crop. It is a splendid wheat for the early frost zones of the Prairies, and is proving the yield among the wheats sown in Eastern Canada.

EGG YIELD DROPS

Hot weather is having its effect on egg production at the Canadian Egg Laying Contest at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. Production is falling off appreciably, and there is a notable increase in the number of light weight and underweight eggs. A pen of Barred Plymouth Rocks from Saskatchewan continues to lead the contest, but with its margin reduced to 54.9 points. The next three places are held by White Leghorns, with little difference between total scores. Out of 800 birds in 80 pens entered this year only 3 have so far qualified for Registration by laying the requisite minimum of 200 eggs since the present contest started.

FORGING AHEAD

The economic survey of conditions in the apple industry throughout Canada now being made by the Agricultural Economics Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture has been extended to the important apple growing districts of Quebec. It started the latter part of May last in Prince Edward County, Ontario, and was extended to Nova Scotia in June. Before completed the survey will cover other districts in Ontario and also the British Columbia orchard districts.

NEW APPLE GRADES

The problems of the apple grower, buyer and consumer will be materially simplified when the Fruit Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture puts into effect the new apple grades advocated by organized growers in the barrel apple districts of Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. The new grades will be No. 1 and Domestic. The preliminary announcement also indicates that hampers and baskets will provide a useful supplement to the present barrel package.

BANKING ON THE FLY

The old excuse, "delayed at the office," is being replaced by another good one, "Couldn't find a place to park my car." But with improvements in system in every direction, this parking problem is not going to last long.

Here is a bank, down in St. Louis, Mo., which has built a special windows and driveway at one side of its building, where motorists can transact business without having to think of hiring a lot or clearing a hydrant. Somebody always gets up with a suggestion on "how," when the need arises.

HOW TO TELL THE TIME

Two small girls were playing together one afternoon in the park.

"I wonder what time it is?" said one of them at last.

"Well, it can't be 4 o'clock yet," replied the other with magnificent logic, "because my mother said I was to be home at 4—and I'm not."—Christian Herald.

FIELD SIZE COUNTS

With the average size of farms steadily increasing, with the increasing use of large capacity power driven types of machinery, and with the increasing importance of crop rotation in maintaining soil fertility the laying out and size of fields becomes a matter of increasing importance. Field Husbandry experts of the Dominion Department of Agriculture stress the value of large fields in farm operation. They find that larger fields decrease loss of time in turning large outfits; the more turns there are the greater is the tendency to rest often. Large fields mean fewer rods of fence to build, and a smaller amount of untillable area to foster weed growth. It takes 50 rods of fence to enclose a square field of one acre, while it takes only eight rods of fence per acre to enclose a square field of ten acres. Oblong fields from one and one-half to three times as long as they are wide are especially satisfactory — the long fields are best for tractor use. Square fields take the fewest rods of fence per acre. Very badly shaped fields should be kept in hay or pasture as much as possible. Large fields, properly laid out, save time and money.

EDUCATION ON WHEELS

Under the personal direction of A. McCowan, Assistant General Superintendent of Car Equipment, the Canadian National Railways completed, this week, at the Fort Rouge Shops (Winnipeg) the above car for the use of the Ontario Board of Education.

The purpose of this car is to educate people at points where school facilities are not available. Advantage will be taken of this educational equipment by both children and older persons desiring to use the educational advantages, thus brought right to them. Provisions are made to educate the youngest child commencing to count on the hand frame, up to older children in the regular subjects taught in the best schools, even including typewriting.

The car is also designed to make a permanent home for the teacher. Entering from the living portion of the car is seen a large Baker heater which is designed to keep the car comfortably warm in the coldest weather; on the opposite side of the car is a large refrigerator 3 ft. x 8 ft., that will take care of the food requirements for a considerable period. Next will be seen the kitchen with a hot range with hot water connections, standard model metal sink and work table covered with the same metal, under this work table are the wash basins, floor bin and cutting board. Two large copper tanks are the means of storing a good supply of water. Over the work table are china cupboards fitted with nests and racks to keep china safe when travelling.

Adjoining the kitchen is a small living room with comfortable sofa, a couch, which can be converted to a lower and a sleeping berth and a cupboard which

NOTHING TO BE GAINED

Seven years experimental work by the Lennoxville Experimental Station of the Dominion Department of Agriculture shows that nothing is to be gained by deep ploughing on land of the type prevailing in this district. As a matter of time past fact the records tend to show increases in crop on the shallow ploughed land, and it would appear that ploughing four inches deep, or deep enough to allow for the preparation of a good seed bed, is all that is necessary. The average yield of corn, oats, clover and timothy on soil ploughed four inches deep was found to be higher than that from land ploughed seven inches deep.

HENS THAT PAY

The ten-year average of the cost of feeding laying hens at the Lennoxville Experimental Station of the Dominion Department of Agriculture is $2.43 per hen. This means that with eggs selling at an average of 35 cents per dozen it takes 6.95 dozen, or 81 eggs, to pay for the keep of the laying hen—only the eggs laid in excess of that number can count as profit. This demonstrates the importance of carefully culling poultry flocks before the laying season begins. It is the hens that lay from 150 to 200 eggs a year that pay.

Now that boys have fallen for the endurance craze, you might tempt Willie to see how many successive days he can endure washing his ears.

EMPIRE PREFERENCE

There is special interest for Canadian farmers in a communication received by the Dominion Department of Agriculture from a London, England, buyer of foodstuffs. "The London County Council has laid down for some time past now that preference shall be given to Empire Foods. In furtherance of this policy it has given permission to those responsible for buying foods to pay up to 10 per cent more for a similar quality foreign product," he states. The London County Council provides food supplies to over 80 large hospitals and 70 institutions of various kinds.

GREEN DUCK PROFITS

There is money in ducks. The Poultry Division of the Dominion Experimental Farms is authority for the statement that Pekin ducklings can be marketed at the age of six weeks at a profit over cost of feed and duckling of $1.38 each. When marketed at this age ducklings are known as "green ducks." At ten weeks a green duck weighs about six pounds. It puts on weight rapidly up to this point, but after the tenth week feathers change and rate of growth is retarded.

THE TAKU GLACIER

This ice field, one of the largest in the world, is one of the many wonders which are to be seen on the route of the Canadian National Steamships between Vancouver and Skagway, Alaska. All of the three boats in this service, the Prince George, Prince Rupert, and the new Prince Henry, pass within a stone's throw of this glacier, the height of which can be judged by the fishing smack in the foreground. The glacier is 60 miles long and only about one-quarter of its width is shown in the photograph.

LAIDLAW—WOODHULL

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Woodhull, Champion, Wednesday, Aug. 6, at 1 o'clock, when their daughter Gladys Mary, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to William G. C. Laidlaw of Cardston. Rev. A. H. Rowe, of Granum, officiated. The bride chose a wedding gown of white silk nixon and tulle with orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, fern and lily of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. H. C. Jopling, who wore a bronze green satin frock, picture hat, shoes and stockings to match and carried a shower bouquet of gladioli in pastel shades and fern. Grant Laidlaw, of Nanton, was best man. Just before the wedding march "Until," accompanied by Miss Rheta Campbell, the rooms were beautifully decorated with roses, sweet peas, ferns and house plants. The bride entered with her father to the strains of the Wedding March played by Miss Jean Laidlaw, of Calgary. Little Ruth Jopling made a dainty flower girl in a frock of peach taffeta. During the signing of the register, Mr. G. M. Campbell sang delightfully "O Promise Me." This was followed by a recitation by Rev. Father Hughes of Granum. The groom's gift to the bride was a necklace and bracelet of carnelians set in sterling silver; the matron of honor a compact; the flower girl a bracelet; the best man a cigarette case in silver and onyx.

After the ceremony a delightful buffet luncheon was served when about forty guests were gathered to felicitate the bride and bridegroom. The tea table was centered by a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake and was presided over by Mrs. G. M. Campbell, Mrs. P. Clark, Mrs. A. W. Jopling. Those assisting in serving were the Misses Rheta Campbell, Jessie Laidlaw, Pauline and Marion Clark and Dorcas Rowe. The bride's travelling costume was a red flat crepe with Roman striped trimming and hat to match. The happy pair departed amid much confetti and best wishes of the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Laidlaw motored to Banff and coastal points.

The wedding gifts were many and beautiful as both the bride and groom are well known in the district, the former having been the teacher of languages at Cardston High school. Mr. Laidlaw is a merchant in Cardston and is popular in musical and sport circles.

The guests included: Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Laidlaw, Miss Jessie and Jean, and James, of Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. Grant Laidlaw, Nanton; Dr. and Mrs. Gerwin, Calgary; Rev. Father Hughes, Granum; Mrs. P. Clark, Pauline and Marion; Granum; Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Campbell and Rheta, Mr. and Mrs. M. Moffatt, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Jopling, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. ## RUBBRA—PYKE

One of the prettiest weddings which has graced the spring and summer season in Red Deer took place at St. Luke's church on Tuesday morning when Miss Marion Catherine Pyke, youngest daughter of one of the most esteemed families of town and district, that of Mr. and Mrs. Dugald Pyke, was united in marriage to Frederick Charles Rubbra, of Victoria, B. C., son of Major and Mrs. T. C. Rubbra of Lethbridge, formerly of Wetaskiwin. Rev. W. T. H. Cripps, the rector, read the marriage ritual of the church, while Miss Mabel Soderman, organist, played the beautiful wedding music. The altar was adorned with sweet peas and other lovely bloom. The bride was given away by her father. She was charmingly attired in a pale blue flowered crepe ensemble, with hat and shoes to match; she carried a shower bouquet of butterfly roses, white sweet peas and fern. She was attended by Miss Peggy Rubbra, who was attired in pale pink crepe with picture hat to match, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and sweet peas. The groomsmen were Mr. James Munn, of Wetaskiwin.

After the ceremony, the bridal party, some thirty in all, sat down to a dainty wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, when the kindest of felicitations were given Mr. and Mrs. Rubbra. The young couple got quite a send-off as they set out afterwards on their wedding trip. The bride's going-away dress was of green crepe with hat to match. They will make their home at Victoria, B. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Rubbra were remembered by beautiful gifts. The groom's gift to the bride was a cameo and pearl pendant, and the bride's gift to the groom was pearl cuff links and studs. To the bridegroom the groom's gift was an exquisite blue necklace and to the groomsmen a watch chain. Among the guests were Mr. D. Pyke's brother, Mr. Frank Pyke, and Mrs. Pyke, from Salt Lake City, Utah; Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Manley and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Wright, Wetaskiwin; Major T. C. Hepworth, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Hepworth, Miss Bernice Hepworth—Red Deer Advocate.

The next job will be to design a suitable sport costume for half-pint golf without making it too much like rompers.

RASPBERRIES

Horticultural experts of the Dominion Department of Agriculture are authority for the statement that the raspberry is easily the most important bush fruit grown in Canada, and among the small fruits it ranks second to the strawberry. The annual production amounts to some 2,500,000 quarts, having a selling value of roughly $500,000. This does not take into consideration the production from city lots and back gardens which is very considerable in volume. At a production rate of 1,500 quarts per acre it would take at least 1,500 acres to produce this crop, and including new plantations the area planted to raspberries is close on to 2,500 acres. British Columbia is the leading raspberry producer, with Ontario a close second. The raspberry is not a commercial crop in Nova Scotia or the Prairie Provinces, but it is cultivated to a profitable extent in every Province of the Dominion, and grows wild from coast to coast and as far north as the delta of the Mackenzie River.

BE RID OF WASTE at threshing time each year

INSTEAD of waiting for a threshing crew—instead of risking losses due to storms, sprouting, stack burn, and wasteful hired machinery—thresh with your own McCormick-Deering All-Steel Thresher and pocket the savings.

You'll cut down losses and waste at every point. You'll get higher premiums for your grain because the grain will be cleaner, better in color, and you can get in on the earlier markets. Then there are always opportunities to do custom threshing. You can earn a good return on your investment after you've finished your own threshing.

M McCormick-Deering All-Steel Threshers are made in two sizes: 22x38 and 28x46. Get the full details from your McCormick-Deering dealer.
